

Angel and Crusader "Black Angel"

Story and Music from Claus-Dieter Schmolt (Rio) and Kristin Runge

Foreword

It is the 12th Century with the blessing of the Pope, the Knights Templar moved again in the direction of Jerusalem, because Jerusalem was indeed now free, but the Islamic Saracens still represents a constant threat

The Spanish knights from Aragon Ramon joined the crusade. Many people followed them rich or poor. Although Ramon came from a poor family but his strong solid faith gave him the strength even with its limited resources in the fight to pull. His grandfather loved him so much and left him a small fortune into the alliance of the Brotherhood of the Crusaders to occur .

Its Grand Master, Jacques de Molay, introduced him to the art of sword fighting and taught him how to fight against Muslim warriors with curved swords . He learned quickly and after a short time he was through his courage and his strong faith has been praised and respected by his knights as a loyal friend and beloved companion in many battles . So the time came that the Crusaders had to move into a new war again ....

1 ) The new start

The journey was arduous, but finally after a long time they reached Palestine. As Ramon was recognized as a full Templar of his brothers, he also wanted to prove to all the struggles that he is a proud Spaniard and had no fear to die for God. After several brutal battles just before Jerusalem Ramon went alone, weary and bruised to the desert and put his bloody sword in the sand. He knelt down in front of his gun and prayed to his God to forgive him his sins, because he had killed many warriors.

A gentle wind blew him through his brown curly hair. His eyes turned to the sky, tears running down his dirty cheeks, as a magical angel appeared to him with snow- white wings. A light blue transparent robe and windy blowing around her beautiful female body. The sun shone through her golden hair and her bright blue eyes caught sight of him. She smiled softly, so that her eyes out of sheer love hit the heart of Ramon and let it melt. When the angel 's love of Ramon felt they fell upon him and his god fearing aura, by turned to him, returned his feelings and tenderly kissed him on the forehead.

2 ) Angel & Crusader so in Love

The angel said: "Welcome my crusader, I love you - come to me and love me " so that the knight replied . " Oh my angel I love you so " So it came about that the knight and the angel united in love. How light and shade, as embers and ice, like fire and water exploded as their love to each other. The universe trembled through the passion of their love.

Angel and Crusader so in love .

Henceforth, the Angel Ramon protected in any of his fights. A shield of love around him and made his body invulnerable. Even his horse, his armor and his sword were thus protected . His aura shone so brightly that his opponents feared him and turned pale with fear. Anyone who met him on his horse bowed his head in awe .

3 ) Battle Crusaders

Now it was finally all the Crusaders, Spanish, French, English Portuguese, German and Italians were ready to fight against the fortress of Sultan, the warrior constantly threatened Jerusalem ..

A desert Storm emphasized over the dunes as the Crusaders from afar with their horses galloping the first assault on his castle began. The Sultan was confident of victory in his stronghold and watched the attack. He spoke loud and clear : "This is my house , you can` t get in " . But when he looked into which outnumber the warrior bravely the walls of his fortress with ladders and burning projectiles captured and killed hundreds of his best warriors froze the Sultan in fear and wondered : "What a great God adore these warriors, my soldiers solidify anxiety and fear ? "

Nasty and cunning as he was, he ordered his servants the stocks of wine with an oriental drug to poison and went to the retreat with his servants. He did not fall into the hands of the Crusaders and left his fortress. The Knights took the fortress of Sultan and the French Grand Master put the Crusaders flag in the highest tower, and said, with a proud and triumphant voice: " This is my house".

4 ) Dancing with crusaders

After the dead were buried , they prayed for their dead brothers and thanked God for the victory . The next day they started early in the morning to celebrate. Now it was time to douse entlich the victory. All the knights drank a lot of wine, danced, laughed, and ate the delicacies that the Sultan had left behind. Some female pleasure Sklavinen whose flight did not succeed with the Sultan served the knights , not only with food and drinks. The men made ..it perfectly clear who is here now master of the house. It was a beautiful, cheerful and boisterous party and they danced, danced and danced .....

5 ) Black Angel (Power and Glory )

In their rush, they prayed to God to bless her with a request bloodstained weapons. But God turned away because your arrogance and his haughtiness despised God. The Knights have killed and have not atoned for their deeds. In addition, all were drunk and the women of the Sultan abused - what an outrage . But the devil heard her request and turned to them . To flatter the knights he turned into a beautiful black angel with a red cross on his robe fire because he wanted to attract the souls of the knight in his spell. That was his plan. Thus, the devil appeared to the Knights in the form of a black angel in their round table. All knights were dazzled by the beauty of the angel - except Ramon. Because Ramon knew the eyes of an angel - they were blue and shining full of love and not so black and cold like this angel. That is why Ramon away from the round table. He drank neither of the sweet wine, but went continuing.

Every single sword was blessed by the black angels. In each case, were huge bolts of energy from the black and dark red eyes with running the alleged angel. Rust and blood on the weapons disappeared immediately . The swords began to shine like chrome and illuminated in bright light .

The angel accentuated into the air, turned and disappeared back into the devil - from a distance you could hear his laugh still loud. But the Knights were too drunk to recognize the wiles of the devil, so that they fell asleep with their swords on the floor and the tables. It was the sweet wine of the Sultan of them sense and took the force.

The angel of Ramon , who was watching from a distance everything said to protect her lover : " Don` t dance with the devil, because the angel will fly with you "

6 ) Devils Wrath

The next morning was cruel. The sun was hot as fire and was high in the sky. Restlessness , confusion , fluid .....

The knights awoke with pained faces of her delirium. It was the drug in their sweet wine. What had happened to them in last night ? Scattered and behaved they were their armor together. In this case surrounds a bad feeling - they have really danced yesterday with the angel of God and celebrated? Still dazed by the drug they reach for their shiny and bright swords, they attract so magical that they forget everything else. Everyone picks up his sword and looks at the shiny blade , which reflect their faces. But then the devil's wrath begins .

The radiance of Swords blinded their eyes and they immediately went blind because the bright sparkle of the blade stabbed them so painful to the eyes like a red-hot knife. Bloody tears flowed from her eyes over their faces .

In hell the devil laughed in his belly, because his behind lister plan seems to have paid off, because now he had the souls of all the knights, but one soul not.

As Ramon later came to his brothers, he discovered full of pity and sorrow that had befallen them. But he could not help his friends, because their souls were long lost.

So he looked at the sky and said: " Oh my angel I love you so "

7 ) The way home

Ramon fringed his horse. He hurriedly packing his saddlebags with food and with a pitcher of sweet wine of the Sultan. At a gallop he leaves the fortress. The fastest way he wants to return to the desert. To the place where the last time he met his beloved angel to forge with her a plan for revenge . He knew what had happened to his brothers yesterday, was the work of the devil. Only the power of God and not his sword to fight against the devil . On the long , hot and arduous journey there, it thirsted him so much that he reached for the pitcher with the sweet wine and took a swig from it , in ignorance , that the wine was poisoned.

8 ) Poisen in the venes

After a while, the drug began to take effect . The poison slowly flowed through his veins . He was sweating, his heart was pounding so loud that he thought it would burst. His throat constricted , so that he could hardly breathe. Ramon everything looked blurred and confused. Powerless he lay dazed on his horse. The way it seemed endless. Hallucinations confused his perceptions . He felt the touch of the devil in his neck. His shield left him and force all the otherwise made him invulnerable. Ramon wondered , "Will I ever get back to my angel? "

But there came a light from afar to him, it was getting brighter. He thought this would be a mirage . But suddenly came upon him a sense of security , happiness and cool refreshment . He could hardly believe his eyes. Was it really his angel or his senses were playing tricks on him ?

Truly it to his beloved angel was . She opened her snow-white wings and flew slowly towards him. She hugged him , pulled him from his horse and flew entwined with him into the air. After they flew through the clouds , they reached the Paradise of God . The sky opened its doors - how beautiful and peaceful it was there. The angel spread his wings and seduced Ramon with divine love.
